

All volunteers representing the Office of Commissioner Peak are expected to maintain the highest standards of professionalism, integrity, and respect. Volunteers must conduct themselves in a manner that reflects positively on the office and the community we serve. Discrimination, harassment, or any form of offensive behavior, including but not limited to verbal abuse, inappropriate language, or discriminatory remarks, will not be tolerated. Volunteers must also refrain from engaging in any activity that may compromise the reputation of the office.

Volunteers are also expected to be courteous and professional in all interactions, whether with fellow volunteers, government officials, or members of the public. Maintaining a positive and constructive attitude is essential to fostering a collaborative environment. Any violations of this code may result in disciplinary action, including termination from volunteer service
